

8710 John 14, 15-26 ....

"He who keeps My commandments is he who loves Me .... to him I will come and reveal Myself to him ...." This promise of Mine points out with all clarity that I Myself make Myself known to those who comply with the demands made on them because they love Me .... And with this promise of Mine I gave you humans already at the time of My walk on earth the indication of the working of My spirit in you, because exactly this spirit wanted to express itself to you and give you bright enlightenment about Me Myself, about My nature and working ....

I wanted to reveal Myself to you .... to send you the pure truth about everything which has its origin in Me. But only few people have understood the meaning of these words, because only few people attach a value to such divine revelations, but mostly everything is rejected, which basically only proves the intimate bond with me. I demanded nothing else from you than the fulfillment of my love commandment, because as soon as you lead a life in right love, you also connect with me myself, who am love, and "who remains in love, he remains in me and I in him ....".

It must now also become more and more understandable to you that I .... if I am with you or in you .... I will also express Myself, and every expression on My part is a revelation. And this must guarantee you purest truth, because nothing else than only truth can go out from me. Consequently you can accept everything without any doubts what is offered to you in form of such revelations because it starts from me and only the purest truth can have its origin in me.

You humans should all delve more into the spiritual meaning of the words which I Myself spoke when I walked on earth. And if you do not understand them right or are only able to recognize an earthly meaning, then establish yourselves the intimate connection with me through a prayer in spirit and in truth and ask me for right understanding, and truly, it will be given to you because it is my will that you move in right thinking; But just you, who believe to be entitled and called to proclaim My Word, you yourselves let too little understanding arise for My Word, because you do not consider the meaning but simply pass over what you yourselves are not able to explain intellectually.

But my word has now once been spoken, and it also keeps its validity. I have promised you to reveal myself to you, and therefore you cannot prove me wrong, you have to believe in divine revelations, but only check seriously what is to be acknowledged as divine revelations, but you are not allowed to reject any spiritual material, which has reached earth in an unusual way, as work of counterforces .... where I myself have expressed this promise.

And a serious examination will also be possible for you because also for this the characteristics are given to you: "Test the spirits whether they are from God .... A spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come into the flesh is from God ...." So divine revelations must also testify to the redemptive work of Jesus and My incarnation in Him .... But then you may also unhesitatingly believe, as well as just the redemptive work of Jesus is the content of those revelations, which a man claims to have received directly from me ....

You truly do not need to accept anything unhesitatingly, you have the task to subject all spiritual material to an examination, otherwise the demand would not have gone out to you: "Test the spirits whether they are from God ....". Every person should take a stand himself on what is imparted to him, he should always carry out every examination under invocation of myself, so that he reaches a living faith .... which, however, is not possible if he accepts everything unchallenged what is presented to him as spiritual good.

Because also my opponent is at work, and he always seeks to contaminate the pure truth, and man himself has the duty to take a stand to be able to distinguish truth from error. And he then is to keep to divine revelations if possible, because as soon as he desires truth himself, I will also let it reach him in some way, and he will accept it without inner contradiction, because it touches him as light and power, because everything what starts from me also does not remain without effect.

Who seriously desires the truth from me, his thinking I will certainly direct right, because I myself then put the right thoughts into his heart, because he seriously asks me myself for the truth and also then he can speak of divine revelations .... Also then he can claim My promises for himself .... "I will reveal Myself to him ...." He will feel the truth in his heart, and his mind will likewise recognize it as right, his thinking will be rightly directed, and any erroneous thoughts he will reject ....

Only he must fulfill the preconditions: He must comply with My commandments of love, on which I have made My divine revelation dependent, because love is I Myself, and if I am to reveal Myself, then man must also be connected to Me through love, so that I am now present to him and he is in the realm of eternal truth, who therefore can also no longer think wrongly .... Lead a life of love and earnestly desire the pure truth .... this is the guarantee that man also moves in the truth ....

But the desire for the truth is mostly lacking .... even if the love of a man fills his heart .... and that is because the man believes to possess the truth and therefore he cannot be taught, because he does not ask, but thinks himself to be knowledgeable .... That is why it is good when man begins to doubt, because he then asks questions himself, which I like to answer him mentally, because I reveal Myself to him who loves Me and keeps My commandments. And also these doubts I often put myself into the heart of man, because I want only one thing that man moves in truth, and I myself want to help everyone to it, who is of a good will .....

Amen
